Cheer up, ye weary wanderers,
Through this dark vale of woe,
In turn we fair each hope
Fulfilled as journing we go.
We're reached at last the jovial and sadly wished for day
When we may put our straw hats and yellow shoes away.

The other day I came across my friend Jenk, who is a trifle short-sighted. Catching me by the top button of my coat, as is his custom, he began a lengthy conversation. Being fully prepared, I coolly brought forth a pair of scissors, and, cutting the button off, left him holding an animated conversation with it I haven't seen him since.

Two men engaged in a cannon manufactory in New York, were overheard discussing an important question.

"In your opinion, which is the more important part of a cannon—the hole or the steel?" said one.

"The hole, of course," was the reply. "What use in the world would a cannon be without a hole in it?"

"You are wrong. The steel's more important; for how many men could you kill with a hole with nothing round it?"

Counsel—"Hm! That man is all, madam. There is no use trying to shake the direct testimony of so truthful a woman as you are."

"I say, mister, did you see a dog come by here that looked as if he were a year, or a year and a half, or two years old?" said a tourist to a countryman at the roadside.

"Yes," said the countryman, thinking himself quizzed. "He passed about an hour, or an hour and a half, or two hours ago; and is now a mile, or a mile and a half, or two miles ahead; and he had a tail about an inch, or an inch and a half, or two inches long."

"That'll do," said the tourist. And he passed on.

A girl employed in a cotton mill one day got a neighbor to read a letter to her which she had received that morning from her young man, which, being interpreted, read: "Dear Alice,—Will you be my wife?" Not wishing her neighbors to know what answer she would give, she thought she would dispatch it herself. So she got a needle, broke off the eye, and stuck it on the bottom of his letter with a piece of wool, put it in an envelope, and got a neighbor to address it to her intended.

The feelings of the young man can better be imagined than described when he opened the envelope, to find his own letter with this curious reply: "Eye wood."

It was at the Sunday dinner at Aunt Mary's. As usual, the children had their appetites with them, and did ample justice to the first part of the programme. But when a delicious apple-pie made its appearance, little Tommy, to everybody's astonishment, burst into tears.

"Why, Tommy darling, what are you crying for?" asked the anxious mother.

"Cos Frankie said there wouldn't be no dessert."

"Well, don't you see that Frankie was only joking?"

"Yes, sobbed poor Tommy; "but I was fool enough to believe him, and I filled up on roast beef."

A 'antern-jawed young man stopped at a village post-office not far from Biddeford and yelled out: "Anything for the Wattses?" George, our polite postmaster, replied: "No, there is not." "Anything for Jane Watts?" "Nothing." "Anything for Ada Watts?" "No, sir." "Anything for Tom Watts?" "No, nothing" "Anything for 'fool Joe' Watts?" "No, nor Dick Watts, Jim Watts, nor sweet Watts, nor any other Wattses, dead, living, native, foreign, civilised, or uncivilised, savage or barbarous, male or female, white or black, franchised or disfranchised, naturalised or otherwise. No, there is positively nothing for any of the Wattses either individually, severally, now and for ever, one and inseparable."

The boy looked at the postmaster in astonishment, and said: "Please look if there is anything for John Thomas Watts."—Ex.

Births took place recently in two colored families living in the same house at the same time, says a western exchange. The fortunate father of the single child thought he could afford to laugh at the poor wretch who became possessed of twins. So had the three children placed together in one bed, and the other poor man's horror when he was told that his wife had given birth to triplets may be better imagined than described. But in the sequel the brilliant humorist was faced with a situation which even he did not con template. The children were all very much of a color, and each exhibited that remarkable uniformity of expression which usually characterizes extreme infancy. The consequence was that when the time arrived to explain the joke, the women in attendance found it absolutely impossible to tell which was which and which t'other. The puzzle has not yet been satisfactorily solved, and the respective parents remain in a perplexing and unhappy state of doubt, and do not know what to do.

THE MAN WHO IS READY NOW.

I want to join the army
And wear a uniform;
I want to be stylish, since
There are no forts to storm.
I want to have brass buttons,
I'd like some shoulder-straps,
So that I might look down upon
All ordinary chaps.

I want to be a soldier,
I want a sword to wear;
I want to ride a horse and smash
The hearts of maidens fair;
I'd like to join the army
At the present moment, for
It'll be a long, long time before
We have another war.

"My good man," said the preacher "it pains me deeply to hear you scoff. Don't you know that there is a hereafter?"

"No," replied the wicked one; I don't know anything of the kind."

"Well, then, let me endeavour to convince you that there is a future existence, when all the mistakes committed in this life will have to be accounted for. You don't know what a comfort it will be to you if you can get this belief thoroughly established in your mind. Think of again meeting those who have gone before; of——"

"Stay—hold on! Stop right there! The idea of meeting those who have gone before is the very thing that makes me most anxious to keep the belief in a future existence for taking hold of me. If there's to be any meeting on the other side I want to be counted out."

"That check isn't good on this here cars, madam," said the conductor on a Lexington street car to an old long-jawed woman recently in presence of the writer.

"What?"

"You have the wrong check."

"The wrong check?"

"Yes, ma'am. We don't take those checks on this line."

"It's the identical check the transfer man gave me."

"Can't help it, ma'am. It isn't good on this car."

"He gave it to me."

"Well, I can't take that check, and you'll have to pay your fare."

"What?"

"You'll have to pay your fare."

"I will hey? Now, young man, you've bumped up ag'in the wrong customer when you ask like that to me. Pay my fare? I've paid my fare, an' all the street car corporations an' monopolies that ever was organized to grind down the poor and oppressed can't make me pay it ag'in, an' if you want to think that heaven an' earth has bumped together you just try to put me off'n this car! I never was put off a car yit, an' I ain't goin' to be put off now, by no ninety-pound conductor all because this company has men in its employ that don't know their histuses. I told that transfer man just where I was goin' but he was so busy tryin' to flirt with a girl standing on the corner that he couldn't attend to bizuness properly and that how it come that he gave me that check, an' now you have the impidence to tell me I've got to pay my fare. What? You'll have my name an' address? All right, my son you can have them an' welcome, an' if you want to send the President of the road to see me tell him to come right along an' I'll give him some pointers 'bout how to run a railroad! And, incidentally, you'll agree,
He's a mighty good hand in a fight.

A BACHELOR TALKS OF BABIES.

A crying evil—a cross baby.

The cradle is appropriately called "the rock of ages."

For a baby there should always be a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip.

A medical journal says: "If a child does not thrive on fresh milk, boil it." It does not say how long the child should be boiled.

There are as many different kinds of babies as there are of grown-up people, and the difference in disposition can be observed at a very early age.

There is, for instance, the hungry, grasping baby. He grabs at everything and refuses to let go. He cries for everything he sees, no matter how big it is or how far off it may be. He will reach out for the moon or a twenty-foo sign on a hot day, and if he could reach them he would make an honest effort to jam them into his mouth. He evidently thinks he has a mouth as big as that of the Thames. Like a trancar, it has never been ascertained how much that greedy kind of baby will contain. When such infants grow up, if they have the ability, they become millionaires and monopolists.

Then there is the fighting papoose. He is born with both fists doubled up. He pulls his nurse's hair, hammers his brothers and sisters on the head with his rattle, pulls the kitten's tail off, and is so many pounds of pure cussedness. When that style of infant matures nothing in the world can prevent him from developing into a policeman or desperado—that is, if he has not got much mental capacity.

But the joy of the household is the good-natured baby that sleeps most of the time, and laughs and crows while awake. Such an infant is a great trouble than a rag baby. When he grows up, if he has money he becomes a philanthropist. There is a fortune in store for the man who can get out a patent on that style of baby.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was nursed for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use and after using six bottles, found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and is well as she every was—Free trial bottles of the Great Discovery at Perry & Thomas' Drug Store, Successors to W. KENTUCKY CAPTURED THE BANNER.

At the forty-ninth annual session of the National Convention of the General Missionary Societies of the Christian church, held at Chattanooga, October 25 to 29, in which the work of the young people was represented under the auspices of the Christian Woman's Board of Missions, a National banner was to be awarded the State having the largest per centage of its Mission Bands and Junior Societies upon the roll of honor. This meant that each of the 1,087 organizations must give more to Missions this year than last. The banner was awarded to Kentucky; 94 per cent. of her Bands and Juniors were honor organizations Ohio made the largest offering, Kentucky the second. A Band at Cleveland, O., won the distinction of being the "Banner Band." The "Self Denial," of Richmond, Ky., made the second largest offering in the United States. Mrs. Mary Smith Waldeu, of Danville, State Superintendent of Kentucky, was the proud banner in charge, and the Bands under her guidance, will no doubt hold it next year.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying "Electric Bitters," and to my great joy and surprise the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents per bottle at Perry & Thomas' Drug Store. Successors to W. G. White. 6

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

TRUST OR NO TRUST—AN APPEAL TO TOBACCO GROWERS.

It matters not whether the trust or the anti-trust wins. The fact remains that tobacco growers do not receive a fair living price for their crops. They have heretofore had to say in fixing the price except the costly method of rejecting sales. Forty thousand hogsheads of tobacco in Louisville alone are annually rejected. This costs you $80,000. Why not send three of your number to attend the daily sales and whenever the average price is below the cost of production authorize them to stop the sales, by refusing to put up your tobacco until the demand will justify an advance in price? Your travveling expenses in attending your individual sales would more than pay the commissioners. Will you do this? Will you agree to pay them 5 cents per hogshead, for refusing to put up your tobacco instead of paying the warehousemen $1.50 for rejecting it? Will you assemble yourselves on the third Monday in November next at your county seats and appoint delegates to a State convention to select men to attend to this business for you? Will sign this agreement to-wit: "I hereby agree to place the selling of my tobacco in the hands of the Commissioners to be selected by the State convention of tobacco growers to be held in Louisville on the 4th Monday in November, 1898, and to allow them 5 cents for each hogshead of tobacco sold above the average cost of production to be determined by the State convention?" Will you sign this and stick to it? There will be sold in Louisville alone not less than 150,000 hogsheads of the 1898 crop. The average cost of this is not less than 8 cents per pound. Unless you do something to protect your interests it will not average more than six cents. This means a loss to you of the enormous sum of three million dollars on one crop of tobacco. Can you stand this? At 5 cents commission on each hogshead the cost would be only seven thousand five hundred dollars. What is this compared to $3,000,000. Your commissioners could be on the breaks by the first of December next. If you are compelled to realize on your crop you could use your warehouse receipts as collateral and borrow money until your tobacco is sold. This you could well afford to do rather than suffer a loss of $3,000,000 by a forced sale on an overstocked market or a market without competition. The general report that "the combine is busted," is all bosh. The same report was circulated just before the July convention. Heed it not. To control the price of both the raw material and the manufactured goods offers the manufacturers an opportunity of making millions of dollars at the expense of the producers and consumers which is too enticing for them long to resist. Will you continue to sink down to the "pauper labor of Europe" level? Or will you make an effort to free yourselves from the tyranny of insatiable greed?

RELIGIOUS.

One of the most interesting religious characters in the State is the Rev. John S. Greathouse, who has just begun a revival in the Court-house at Glasgow. He asserts that Christ will again visit the earth in 1899, and says he is waiting and working that he may be able to give a good account of himself when "the Redeemer appears." The evangelist says that since 1889 he has walked over 10,000 miles, preached 5,000 sermons, visited 10,000 sick people, married 300 couples and had printed for free distribution more than 500,000 sermons. In all his sermons there is but one that contains the pronoun I, as he says the Scripture forbids anyone endowed with the Holy Spirit to speak of himself

What it Costs to Raise a Boy.

Not long ago a man living in a western town made the assertion that it costs a great deal to rear a boy and began to add: I opened an account with my oldest son when he was born and kept it faithfully, charging him with every cent paid out on his account, except board, while at home. The boy was 21 years old not long ago and I nearly paralyzed him by handing him a bill for $5,948 97. Being the amount paid out to keep him alive and reasonably happy.

CLEAN PEOPLE

Cleanliness goot with health. If we have catarrh any where we can not be wholly clean.

Make systematic efforts to be free from this disgusting disease, Mrs. L. A. Johnston, 105 "Pilsam and Ripley Sts., Montgomery, Ala., tells her experience with catarrh of the stomach and how she was cured:

"I will state to you that I have taken eight bottles of your Pe-ru-na and two of Man-a-lin and rejoice to say, 'God bless Dr. Hartman and Pe-ru-na.' And I earnestly assure you that it has done me more good than any medicine I have ever taken in my life. I prescribe it to every one I meet who is suffering, as the best medicine in the world, and have made many converts who are now rejoicing in the great good which they have derived from the same. I can tell you that I am almost entirely relieved of indigestion, that great foe which has tortured me so many years, and can now eat anything I desire without it is fruits or something sold."

To understand the scientific action of Pe-ru-na it is best to have Dr. Hartman's special book for women or his book on chronic catarrh. These books are mailed free by the Pe-ru-na Medicine Company, Columbus, O. All druggists sell Pe-ru-na.

Ask any druggist for a free Pe-ru-na Almanac for the year 1899.

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

The newest house gowns are as baggy in front as ever.

The backs of all bodices are severely plain in fit.

The skirts of house gowns are trimmed from belt to hem; either continuously, or at intervals.

The new overskirt happily lacks the weight and clumsiness of bygone predecessors. Its lines are very graceful and artistic.

While sleeves are unmistakably plain yet those for house wear are so prettily trimmed at the shoulders that they do not appear to be severe.

Red is in great favor for little girls. A charming cloak shown by Best & Co., for a miss of six, is of a warm, welcome shade of scarlet, with deep shoulder parements trimmed with many rows of of very narrow black silk braid, fancifully disposed at the corners.

Some ladies still affect a fall of lace over the hand. The fashionable house sleeve is more elaborately trimmed round the wrist than for many a year.

All widths of ribbon will be used for trimming purposes.

Taffetas and soft wool goods show pinkish heliotrope shades in a variety that is pleasing to the eye.

Ladies of delicate organism who find a boned corset burdensome, may wear the negligee R. & G., with pleasure and comfort. It conforms to the artistic requirement as well as to the immediate personal need of pliancy.

Robe dresses of the Victorian era are revived.

Some skirts show seven narrow ruffles overlapping each other, and each one a different shade of one color.

TIPTON'S RECORD—BY TIP HIMSELF.

I wish to add new evidence to my reasons why all politicians should distrust the sincerity of French Tipton and hesitate to train in his company henceforth. I shall quote from the CLIMAX while HE was its editor, its only editor, and if every paragraph here reprinted does not stamp his behavior as the most consummate surrender of political manhood, then indeed I am a liar and unfit for the associa tion of gentlemen." As each of these paragraphs passes under your careful scrutiny, remember that a few weeks thereafter this sanctified disciple of National Honor secretly and covertly stabbed the party that had fed and clothed him since his youth, and to which he still urged his old companions to be true, whilst he knifed it in the dark. Remember all this was written by Tipton before Judge Chenault bought the CLIMAX, and just before the closing convention. Read:

"We are for the Chicago nominee, be he Bland, Teller, or Cleveland.—CLIMAX, July 1, 1896.

"From this time till November will be a season for hypocrites."—CLIMAX, June 24, 1896.

"In Kentucky we must stand together and see that the grand old commoner does not go Republican."—Tipton. The battle ground is in Kentucky, Iowa, Illinois and Indiana.—June 24, 1896.

"The CLIMAX believes in a majority railroad it is always for the nominee."—June 18, 1896.

"Democrats, shut your mouths as to each other about finances and open them about Republicans. Stop fighting each other and fight the common enemy."—June 18.

"The CLIMAX is in favor of free silver at a ratio of 32 to 1."—May 20.

"Bradley is called an A. P. A., which being literally construed means A Pie Admirer."—April 22.

"Pure Democracy' probably comes from Indiana who have voted for a Republican against the Democratic nominee."—May 13.

[Read that paragraph again—and burn a rag.]

"NIT"

Tipton in Climax, July 1, 1896.

Judge Tipton, the long editor and sound money man of the CLIMAX, is so pleased with Mr. McKinley's victory at the election and the platform upon which he stands that he has placed in his office window a splendid likeness of the Ohio Napoleon. Come, Tip, and join us in the glory of sound money and good times like yourself.—Panaragraph.

Now you see there is a Democratic party, and should that party cease to exist we will flock by ourselves. Might whether, or nominated at Chicago, but can't tell for certain.—French Tipton in Climax.

And yet, and yet, in four months from that day he voted for McKinley, after bowing on a Democrat! The remarks of the woodcock are in order.

"The editor of the CLIMAX purposes to continually advocate Democratic principles."—Aug. 26, '96.

"Vote the straight Democratic ticket. A scratcher is not a good Democrat."—Oct. 30, '96.

"A man who has anything else to do, but goes to the revenue service as a gauger, ought to have his neck broke"—Oct 30 '96.

"A Democrat for revenue only is not the best kind of Democrat"—Oct. 30 '95.

"We know some fellows who received Government appointments but are now thinking of voting against the men who were instrumental in securing them the places"—Oct 30, '95

"Tyler showed conclusively that Republicans, even in Kentucky, are worse than Dick Tate"—Oct. 23, '95.

"Vote for Goodloe and Chenault is a vote along the line of States Rights"—Oct. 2, '95

"A vote against Bennett and Burnam is a vote against a strong idea of centralized government."—Oct. 2, '95.

All the foregoing articles are copied from files of the CLIMAX examined by half a dozen gentlemen—from the papers bearing the name "FRENCH TIPTON, EDITOR," and if they do not accord with his present views, it has nothing to do with my declaration that he has no politics at all. Perhaps he is one of those inexplicable political eccentricities of the species that delights through the force of constitutional vascillation, due to the irresistible attraction of a permanent still house attach. Who knows?

I stated recently that Tip had agreed "to shoot as he was paid." You know what a bouquet of choice epithets I received from his stock in trade. But you did not know, for certain, that I had told the truth as it was told to me. But I did not misquote, or garble, or manufacture a single sentence. I simply quoted the gentleman who has since told Tipton to his face that I had told the truth. Now let's see if Tip did any shooting as he was paid. He had a regular hemmorhage when I accused him of it. Here is his original idea of What a Cold Dog Is, published by him in the CLIMAX AFTER Judge Chenault hired him to supervise the paper, and cautioning him to avoid all abusive epithets concerning the Gold Democrats:

WHAT ARE THE GOLD DEMOCRATS

Have you ever asked yourself the question: Who are the Gold Bugs? Here is a partial list:

The corporations.
The combinations.
The bigger—most of them.
The trusts.
The thieves.
The government pap suckers.
The fellows who don't know any better.
The classes.
The dead tank suckers.
The bond holders.
The galoots.
The big manufacturers.
The traitors.
The theorist.
The d—f—s.
The pie hunters.
The fellow that's 'agin' all his neighbors.
The flatterers.
The flag-whangs.
The flummoxers.
How do you like 'em?
Are you one of 'em.

"Evidently Tip was trying to get his salary raised," said a gentleman as he read this from the CLIMAX of Oct. 8, 1896. Instead of that, the proprietor reproved him for the scurrilous piece, but was too vicious to let it type where the paper was seeking to draw men to the cause of free silver instead of driving them away.

And yet he said "Woods manufactured the biggest lie of all the lies he has told. No, Woods has lied, I ask, and echo answers "Nit."

Here is the kind of doctrine to present in a newspaper. We dare Judge Tipton to print it in his newspaper and say, "That's my motto:"

"Men who barter their political honor will sell out their neighbors. If you know any man who sells his political convictions for a swell dinner, or piles of dem aside in obedience to the wishes of others, watch that man. He is dangerous. He will lie to you, or play foul. We will sell out your interests also. At no moment of life should such a individual be countenanced."—Durango, Colorado, Democrat.

Another point I notice this political chameleon flist denies and then acknowledges his awful crime of '96—Registering one way and voting 'tother. I want to say to him that I repeat with emphasis what I have charged all along, that is that on registration day, 1897, he walked before the officers and said: "I have been registering Democratic and voting Republican. I will now register as I vote—Republican." If he says this is a lie I shall refer his statement to two of the most prominent citizens of Madison county, one an officer who heard it, the other one of several gentlemen whom he told about it five seconds after Judge Tipton made that unparalleled declaration—and the election officer repeated it word for word as printed above to the same gentlemen, only last Saturday.

Now I do assert that the "Dutch captured Holland," that you knowingly, maliciously maligned me when you stated I was a Republican in 1896, when in fact I had cast my first vote in Madison for J. W. Bales for Sheriff two years before, as the books will show to day; and furthermore, I shall not "crawl into my hole," nor will you dare to slap my cheek with the treacherous hand that saluted but to slay, and kissed but to kill your party in 1896. I shall pursue my customary course, and on this town, I shall pay no attention to your bulldozing threat of last resort, but remember when you injustly accused me of the very crime you lovingly confessed, you did a thing that honest men and angels can ne'er forget.

Your gradual political decline, step by step, from the day you left the sanctum of the ameuted Marion Green, suggests this poem to my mind, I dedicate it

TO FRENCH TIPTON, THE HAS BEEN.

I'm a traitor to the Democrats,
With a tinge of Rad in me;
The glittering gold of the Plutocrats
Has wrought the change you see
I want the rich to richer get,
And the poor man ponder, too;
My head is set—I'll vote, you bet,
For all the Radical crew
I used to be a Democrat,
With all the name implied;
But the hog-a-boo of "Popocrat"
O'ercame me till I cried.
I didn't expect to put our man
In the Presidential chair;
But then I did the best I could
To put McCluey there.
For he satisfies me quite as well
As any other sloth,
I'd draw four dollars every day
Secured by a still-house job.
When all Chicago we convened,
If there my side had won,
As rankest traitor I'd have deemed
Some bolting son-of-a-gun.
And branded him for future day
So I could ne'er mistake
To help by vote to shelve away
An office-hunting fake!
But oh, it's different now, you See—
Majorities don't rule,
And glittering gold has made of me
A Plutocratic tool.

Now Sir, I want to say emphatically that the undersigned is wholly responsible for all that he has written, he reiterates it all, he retracts not a syllable. He will be at his customary place of business at usual hours, and will not weaponize your slapping anybody else's jaws nor involving anibody else in this matter. You can read. Please read aright.

Wonderful Cure

Spinal Disease the Result of a Fall—Abscesses Formed.

Kentucky Clergyman Reports What Hood's Sarsaparilla Did.

The character of the people who testify to the merits of Hood's Sarsaparilla is worthy of consideration. Read what a Kentucky clergyman says:

"When our little girl was 3 years old she fell from a loft and strained her spine. Since then she has been subject to spinal disease, and lost the use of her limbs. She was very delicate and did not have much appetite, and abscesses formed on the left side of her spine, which discharged continually and she was obliged to lie on her right side all the time. We procured a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and she began taking it. The first effect was to give her an appetite and enable her to sleep. She continued taking it, and now she is a healthy child with the exception of her deformity." REV. B. S. WARD, Guthrie, Kentucky. Remember

Is the best—in fact the One True Blood Purifier.

CHARLES OFFUTT, twice Speaker of the Kentucky Legislature, committed suicide at Omaha last Thursday, while temporarily insane from illness

MADISON county's credit is all right. A block of $112,000 railroad bonds were sold recently at 103. The bonds bear five per cent. interest. Clark county can do as well and if the turnpike bonds are voted this will reduce our rate of interest from six per cent. to 4 way below four.—Winchester Democrat.

THE Meade County Messenger nominates Editor Harry Sommers, of the Elizabethtown News, for Governor of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Mr. Sommers has a noble record in public and private life, and popular everywhere, and would unite the journalistic fraternity in his behalf, and the party would have a brainy, blameless leader.

Out of their own mouths come condemnation. Chauncey I. Filley was evidently justified in resigning. Address sing the Republican Convention, he said:

"I resign the leadership of the Republican party in Missouri because I do not wish to be associated with the patronage brokers, instruction bolters, trust syndicates, tax dodgers and combines, repeaters, franchise grabbers and sellers and neither silent or guilty promoters or supporters."

THE Shelby Sentinel has been sold to Jim Guthrie, an old C. U. boy, and Chas. M. Lewis, member of the present Democratic State Central Committee. We know them both and like them immensely. Mr. Guthrie is a promising young attorney, and his knowledge of the law will be of great service in the new professorship. Mr. Lewis is a born newspaper man and a gentleman of refinement and education, and a great favorite at all the gatherings of the State press. We wish them success.

THE Sound Money Democratic papers in Kentucky are gradually changing their ownership and political complexion. The Shelby Sentinel is the latest victim to swell the list, and the letter of this city, and we know of an other of equal prominence not a thousand miles away that would like to let go. The fact is the white people of Kentucky, the tax payers, are not going to nurture the men who preach a doctrine that makes the rich richer and the poor poorer, and they are jumping the fence fast enough to prove that statement. The Courier-Journal is wavering.

IN the light of results the following from the Stanford Journal speaks for itself, though at this good election time we sincerely trust Bro. Walton's forecast, made purely in the interest of greater Democratic activity, is erroneous, and that its chief virtue was to stir up the party in Lincoln to its duty to the candidate:

"There seems to be cumulative evidence that there was more desire to nominate Gilbert than to elect him. So far the only work done in this county for him has been done by Hons. R. C. Warren and M. F. North, original McCreary men. If the original Gilbert men have done, are doing or will do anything to elect him, the fact does not appear. As the election is just a week off, they had better be getting a move on themselves. Unfortunately a nomination is no longer equivalent to election and work and vigilance have to take the place of satisfied assurance."

THAT the Courier-Journal is wavering in its policy of fighting Democracy may be inferred from the public card of Mr. W. R. Halderman last week announcing why he would vote for Turner instead of Evans for Congress and drops this significant remark: "As between Mr McKinley and Mr. Bryan, I do not believe that even you, Mr. Bonnie would hesitate for a moment, after a year and a half of McKinley, to turn to Mr Bryan, with the vagaries which he himself will turn from. If Mr. McKinley and Mr. Bryan are the nominees of their respective parties in 1900 I shall certainly vote for Mr. Bryan, as I believe him to be an honest, upright man, with an integrity of character unknown to the inhabitant of the White House at this time; and, thoroughly convinced as I am, that the 16 to 1 issue is so absolutely dead that it can never be vitalized, I propose to vote for a man whom personally I respect and admire."

The confession of confidence in Mr. Bryan is immaterial. But the indictment of McKinley is the feature. All Democrats have confidence in the former.

HOW DAVISON GOT IT.

Two years ago, we with our time and money and united effort gained a grand victory and we expected the offices held by Cleveland's favorites to be delivered to us, but two years have elapsed and we are still out in the cold. We have appealed by letter and by petition to our Congressmen, only to find not a word upon the records for a relief, but find our representatives in collusion with the office-holding Democrats, that they may assist them in re-election and the result of the November election can be easily told. As to Davison, he is not considered the nominee of our party. A lot of office holders and mug wump Democrats, who hold positions that belong to Republicans, met at Danville and nominated him against the will of the party. Davison has never raised his voice or hand in Congress against civil service or any other proposition but has given a hand from the beginning to set up a bum machine and did not care of what kind of material. In many places he endorsed Democrats for positions instead of life-long Republicans. Should he expect these Republicans to support him?—"Republican" in Bargin Messenger.

GILBERT WINS.

The Gray Gelding "Also Ran."

The Shelby Statesman Wins by 1,000 to 1,500.

Madison Cuts Down The Republican Majority About 300.

Without desire to mislead but to give only such facts as we could obtain up to 10 o'clock p. m., it may be said that Gilbert has carried the Eighth District by from 1000 to 1500.

For Davison: Lincoln, 283, Garrard, 200, Rockcastle, 200, Madison, 176.

Gilbert carried: Shelby, 1000, Spencer, 350, Anderson, 253, Mercer, 200, Boyle, 86, Jessamine, 150.

Madison county gave Davison 454 majority two years ago, but this is cut down over 270, which in view of the general apathy everywhere manifested on both sides, is a splendid tribute to the work performed by the Democratic leaders of Madison under the vigilant guidance of County Chairman John B. Chenault, who has worked like a beaver for Gilbert.

Turner, Democrat, beat Congressman Evans 255 in Louisville. Settle, Democrat, re-elected in 7th district by 5,000.

THE Cynthiana Democrat recussed Congressman Pugh of nepotism, and said that he and his relatives are drawing annually $17,800 from Uncle Sam. Pugh' denied it until he counted up and found the facts were that his family only drew $15 100! Editor Allen gave as his authority the Dover News and Maysville Ledger, both rank Republican papers, which are pretty good clubs to use on their own candidates.

Prettiest in The State.

"That is just a little bit extravagant," said 'Squire Armer to the CLIMAX "Rube," when the latter pronounced his new quarters the prettiest jewelry store in the State. Mr. Armer has moved into the store of the late E. H. P. Palmer on Main street and has fitted it up more expensively than did even Mr. Palmer when death took the latter from us. Don't fail to look in and drop in. 'Squire is happy and we all are happy to keep him with us. His stock is new and the largest ever kept in Richmond.

The Atlantis.

In a competitive bidding the CLIMAX was awarded the printing of the Atlantis, the monthly organ of the literary societies of Central University. Since the advent of the Central News the Atlantis has gradually dropped the local features that belong more properly to the News, and thus the students are represented by two publications in no wise conflicting with each other. This is proper. It is also evidence of the ability of the young men and competimentary to their tastes, to support a purely literary magazine and an exclusive newspaper. The latter, though less than two years old, is an established fact. The old Atlantis glides smoothly into its new channel under the guidance of Mr. Cash Crooke, Business Mrnager, and Editor-in-chief T. Hood Little. These young men enter upon their duties not only enthusiastically, but with definite plans and the intellectual and management ability to place the Atlantis as high in the scale of purely literary college publications as its companion, the Central News, is in the ranks of weekly college newspapers.

McKinney-Boggs Nuptials.

We had the honor yesterday of being present at the marriage of Miss Hallie Boggs and Mr. Walker McKinney, which took place at 1:30 p. m. at the residence of Mr. Green B. Turley, on the Big Hill pike, in the eastern suburbs of Richmond. The bride is a daughter of Mr. Robert C. Boggs, the prominent Red House farmer, and in all Madison county there is not a handsomer lady, or one with finer qualities of head and heart. She is affectionately esteemed by her girl companions than which no higher compliment to any woman can be paid, for each sex best understands its members and pays unqualified praise only when it is unquestionably due. Mr. McKinney is senior partner of the large firm of McKinney, Scrivner and Chenault, three Madison county gentlemen in the dry goods business at Winchester, proprietors of the celebrated Klondike Store. With beauty, amiability, education and accomplishments, on the one hand, and thrift, good moral character and intelligence on the other this match should prove a happy one, and such the CLIMAX joins all their friends in hoping it will be.

The ceremony took place in the presence of quite a number of relatives and friends. A feature of the event was the presence of the beautiful little flower maidens. Misses Hester and Tom Cole Crowe, a blonde and brunette, in spotless white. The wedding march was played by Miss Bessie Turley, and the ceremony, brief but solemn, was said by Rev. T. Q. Martin, of Winchester. After the ceremony the happy couple left for a bridal trip in the East.

Crowe, Jr., the talented and popular young pastor of the Southern Presbyterian church, of this city and Miss Grace Pilkington, the handsome and beloved daughter of Mr. Ad. Pilkington, of Versailles, will be married about the middle of December." While at Frankfort recently we enquired about the reputation as a minister borne by our friend Rev. Wm. Crowe, Jr., and found the sentiment there unanimous, that he is both able and popular. C-l Craddock recently promoted one of his sermons from which he had heard in years. The young lady who is soon to be Mrs. Wm. Crowe, Jr., is one of the loveliest characters in Frankfort

Elected Grand Chancellor

Mr. A. C. Green, of this city, was elected Grand Chancellor for the State of Kentucky by the representative vote of six thousand Knights Pythias at the meeting of the Grand Lodge at Bowling Green. We are proud to know that one of our fellow townsmen will fill this office as it is the highest of the order in the State.

When Hungry Remember This.

While in Lexington recently we stopped for breakfast at the English Kitchen, No. 12 West Short street, and found the proprietor to be J. W. Masters, a Madison county man, well known here. Meals at all hours only 25 cents. Lodging, same price. Remember to call on your countyman. He sets the largest meal in Lexington at the lowest price. Issue the popularity of the English Kitchen.

To Run Street Cars.

Winchester is to resume her street car service this month. The tracks, long buried by disuse, will be dug up and the jingle of the mule bell will awaken the inhabitants from the peace they have doubtless enjoyed for two years. As for street cars again in Richmond—requiescat in pace.

Medal for Capt. Duncan.

After the Lancaster company had been mustered out at Lexington, Saturday, the Madison county members presented Capt. Duncan with a handsome medal as a token of their high regard for him. We heard one of them say, "That man is the best officer I ever saw, and we all have learned to love him. He has a warm spot in our hearts." We also heard members of other companies say Sam was the best Captain in the regiment.—Lancaster Record.

A Thousand Dollar Piano.

Mr. John W. Patton, of the firm of Patton & White, Jackson, Miss., after a visit of several weeks to Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Million, near Million, this county, returned home last week. A few days after Mr. Patton had departed, Mr. Million received a bill of lading from the Kimball Piano Co., Chicago, for a piano, which was valued at $1,000.

It turned out to a present from Mr. Patton to Mr. Million's eighth-year-old daughter, Nell Burrel. The piano, which is one of the finest in the country, is now in Mr. Million's home; the family never were more agreeably surprised nor more sensibly touched with gratitude than when this valuable present was received.

A Beautiful Display.

We have reference to the windows of Douglas, Bright & Co., on Main street. So artistic and original in design are the windows of this house that the general public can not pass without first taking a peep and enjoy the luxurious display that greets the optics. The gentlemen of this firm are energetic and hustling young men, and do not allow anything to grow old in their house. Their windows are decorated several times a week, and each time a beautiful view is presented to the public. The show windows do not surpass in beauty the inside of this mammoth shoe and gentlemen's furnishing house, where you receive polite treatment, and 100 cents for every dollar you leave with them.

Covington & Mitchell's Commodious Room.

The Masonic Temple Building on Main steet, the ground flour of which is occupied by Covington & Mitchell's the fashionable tailors, is about completed, and is one of the handsomest building in the city. The room occupied by Covington & Mitchell is twice as large as heretofore and is well lighted making this store room one of the best arranged in the state for their business. Their immense stock has so crowded the house that these gentlemen could not well show, to an advantage, their unrivaled line of goods. Call on them in their new quarters and your eyes will be opened to the real fact that this house carries as large and fine a stock of goods as any to be found south of Cincinnati.

Dr. Witherspoon Dead.

The death of Rev. Dr. Thomas Dwight Witherspoon at Louisville last Tuesday night, caused deep sorrow to his many friends in Richmond, where he was some years ago pastor of the First Presbyterian church, while conducting the Theological Department of Central University. He had been ill for quite a while, underwent a surgical operation, and never recovered. It is indeed, superfluous to print an extended notice in this community concerning this great and good man. He was thoroughly appreciated, which is a compliment to the intelligence of our people. His Godly life was so gentle and beautiful, his meekness and his greatness blended so harmoniously, that all men combined that our loved friend truly "walked with God." His place in the hearts of the people every where he labored was as it was here, where he was held in reverence and positive affection by all.

Some weeks ago Rev. Ashby Jones, now pastor of probably the largest Baptist church in Richmond, Va., promised from Dr. Witherspoon's old pulpit in this city We remember how he enjoyed his new charge, and what he promised, though of another creed, welcomed, and counseled, and encouraged "the boy pastor of the Baptist church." Mr. Jones' tribute was as beautiful as it was unselfish. Last Sabbath morning the present pastor of the church, Rev. J. K. Smith alluded at length in his prayer to his distinguish predecessor, and many eyes were doubtless moistened at his beautiful, prayerful references to the great and good man the memory of whose association we shall ever cherish as a blessing of God.

Dr. Witherspoon leaves a widow and six children, the oldest, Lottie, wife of Rev. Eugene Bell, missionary to Korea; and Miss Florence, Eva, Mabelle and Pauline, and Messrs. Thomas Dwight and Vernon Ingram Witherspoon. The funeral occurred on Saturday, followed by interment in Cave Hill Cemetery.

A Sure Sign of Croup.

Hoarseness in a child that is subject to croup is a sure indication of the approach of the attack. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough has appeared, it will prevent the attack. Many mothers who have croupy children always keep this remedy on hand and find that it saves them much trouble and worry. It can always be depended upon and is pleasant to take. To Cure Catarrh

Do not depend upon snuffs, inhalants or other local applications. Catarrh is a constitutional disease, and can be successfully treated only by means of a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla. This store room thoroughly defies the blood and removes the scrofulous taint which cause catarrh. The great number of testimonials from those who have been cured of catarrh by Hood's Sarsaparilla fully proves the unequaled power of this medicine to conquer this disease. If troubled with Catarrh give Hood's Sarsaparilla a fair trial at once.

As to its efficacy, I have been informed by scores of persons of the good results they have received from it, and know the value from the use of it in my own household It is so pleasant to take that we have to place the bottle beyond the reach of the children.

The Best Plaster.

A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on to the affected parts is superior to any plaster. When troubled with a pain in the chest or side, or lame back, give it a trial. Feeding the Fire.

The most powerful engine must stop if the fires are not fed. Man is the most wonderful piece of machinery in the world, yet no matter how strong and well-made his bodily frame may be, if the fire of life within him is not constantly fed his limbs and muscles become powerless and useless.

The reason men become helpless and diseased is because the food they eat, which is the fuel of life, is not properly digested and appropriated by the stomach and nutritive organs. It is not completely transformed into the strength and working power which is to man what steam is to the engine.

That wonderful power-making "Golden Medical Discovery," invented by Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., imbues the human digestive juices and blood-making glands with capacity to extract abundant nourishment from the food. It builds up organic tissue, nerve fiber, hard muscular flesh and working force. It gives a man steam.

What it did for Mr. F. S. Hughes, of Junction, Hunterdon Co., N. J., is given in his own words. He writes: "I received your kind letter, and in reply would say that mine was a bad case of kidney and liver trouble, and that six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and four bottles of little 'Pellets' effected a complete cure. It is well known that almost every engineer is troubled more or less with kidney trouble, especially on our fast express trains. I run one hundred and forty-four miles on these trains every day in the week, and have had no return of the trouble since taking the remedies, nearly three years ago."

Delicate Children

They do not complain of anything in particular. They eat enough, but keep thin and pale. They appear fairly well, but have no strength. You cannot say they are really sick, and so you call them delicate.

What can be done for them? Our answer is the same that the best physicians have been giving for a quarter of a century. Give them of Cod-Liver Oil with Hypophosphites. It has most remarkable nourishing power. It gives color to the blood. It brings strength to the muscles. It adds power to the nerves. It means robust health and vigor. Even delicate infants rapidly gain in flesh if given a small amount three or four times each day.

A NEW WAY TO TREAT DIPHTHERIA.

Mr. Archie Woods, of Harrodsburg, handed the Sayings the appended item under the above caption that may be a matter of interest to many. He says he clipped it from a paper many years ago. It reads as follows:

Quite a discovery in the treatment of diphtheria has been made here. A young man, whose arm had been amputated, was attacked by diphtheria before healing took place, and instead of the matter incident to that disease being deposited in the throat, the greater portion appeared on the wounded arm, and the diphtheria was very light and easily managed. Dr. Davis of Mankato, profited by this, and in his next case of diphtheria blistered his patient's chest and on this blistered part the chief deposits appeared. This was also an easy case of the disease. The theory of Dr. Davis is that diptheria usually appears in the throat because of the thinness of the lining of the throat. Hence, when the blister breaks the skin upon any other part of the body, the disease appears there.—Minnesota Letter to the Salem Mass. Gazette.

Parsnip Complexion.

It does not require an expert to detect the sufferer from kidney trouble. The hollow cheeks, the sunken eyes, the dark, puffy circles under the eyes, the sallow parsnip-colored complexion indicates it.

A physician would ask if you had rheumatism, a dull pain or ache in the back or over the hips, stomach trouble, desire to urinate often, or a burning or scalding in passing it; if after passing there is an unsatisfied feeling as if it must be at once repeated, or if the urine has a brick dust deposit or strong odor.

When these symptoms are present, no time should be lost in removing the cause.

Delay may lead to gravel, catarrh of the bladder, inflammation, causing stoppage, and sometimes requiring the drawing of the urine with instruments, or may run into Bright's Disease, the most dangerous stage of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great discovery of the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, is a positive remedy for such diseases. Its reputation is world-wide and it is so easy to get at any drug store that no one need suffer any length of time for want of it.

However, if you prefer to first test its wonderful merits, mention The Richmond CIMAX and write to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. for a sample bottle and book telling all about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. I

TOBACCO DEAL IN OWENSBORO.

A big tobacco deal was recently closed in Owensboro whereby Mr. A. C. Tompkins purchased from Massie Bros. 225 hogsheads of leaf tobacco stored in one of the Louisville tobacco warehouses. The total amount paid for the tobocco was about $24,000. Averaging the hogsheads at 1,200 pounds each, the usual weight of a leaf tobacco hogshead, the price paid is a little over seven cents a pound.

The entire purchase was Prior leaf, re-dried and in fine condition. It had been carefully picked and all faulty leaves removed. It was all strips and in just the proper condition for the export trade. Mr. Tompkins has already shipped the tobacco to a foreign market, but he declined to say what market. The price paid was more than had been offered the Massies on the Louisville market, another indication that Owensboro is a better tobacco market than Louisville. It is one of the biggest tobacco deals ever made here.—Owensboro Messenger.

AFRAID OF THE NEW TIME.

The Famous Reform Magazine Has Terrorized The Washington Incompetents.

No articles published in years have attracted so much attention as those entitled "Suppressed News from Washington," now running in The New Time, Chicago's aggressive reform magazine. The third installment appears in the November number and declars that the reason President McKinley does not force Alger's resignation is due to the fact that the former appointed all or nearly all of the officials responsible for the scandals now being investigated. The administration papers are indignantly demanding that The New Time be called to account for these articles, but the magazine continues to pour editorial shot and shell into the Washington intrenchments. It is the most interesting and startling matter now being published.

The November Times is a most attractive number. A beautifully illustrated article on "Life in the Ruskin Colony" is from the pen of Herbert N. Casson. The magazine contains the first chapter of a delightful satire, "How I became a Millionaire" by Mark Pullafeller, a capitalist until now unknown to fame. The cartoons, editorials, general information concerning the reform movement and selected matter make up a grand issue of this famous magazine. If you are not already a subscriber to The New Time send The CLIMAX a dollar for an annual subscription and we will forward it for you. For $1 90 we will send The New Times and The CLIMAX for one year. You must not fail to read this great magazine.

TAKE WARNING.

The Masonic lodge at Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands, has sent a circular letter to Masonic lodges in this country warning the fraternity against coming to those islands with the expectation of making money by investments, or of securing employment in any way.

The letter states that there is but an occasional and uncertain demand for skilled workmen and the supply of book-keepers, stenographers, clerks, etc., already far exceeds the demand, while all the professions, medical, dental and the law, are more than overcrowded, and many are arriving in Honolulu only to meet with distress.

A Business Parable.

[Harrodsburg Democrat.]

Once a farmer had one thousand eight hundred bushels of wheat, which he sold, not to a single grain merchant, but to one thousand eight hundred different dealers, a bushel each. A few of them paid him in cash, but far the greter number said it was not convenient then, but would pay later. A few months passed, and the man's bank account ran low. "How is this?" he said. "My one thousand eight hundred bushels of grain should have kept me in affluence until another crop is raised, but I have parted with the grain and have instead only a vast number of accounts, so small and scattered that I cannot get around and collect them fast enough to pay expenses." So he posted up a public notice and asked all those who owed him to pay quickly. But few came. The rest said: "Mine is only a small matter, and I will go and pay one of these days," forgetting that though each account was very small, when all were put together they meant a large sum to the man. Things went on thus: the man got to feeling so badly that he fell out of bed and awoke, and running to his granary found his one thousand eight hundred bushels of wheat still safe there. He had only been dreaming, and hadn't sold his wheat at all.

Moral—The next day the man went to the publisher of his paper and said: "Here, sir, is the pay for your paper; and when next year's subscription is due you can depend on me to pay it promptly. I stood in the position of an editor last night, and I know how it feels to have one's honestly earned money scattered all over the county in small amounts."

GETTING READY

Every expectant mother has a trying ordeal to face. If she does not get ready for it, there is no telling what may happen. Child-birth is full of uncertainties if Nature is not given proper assistance.

Mother's Friend

is the best help you can use at this time. It is a liniment, and when regularly applied several months before baby comes, it makes the advent easy and nearly painless. It relieves and prevents "morning sickness," relaxes the overstrained muscles, relieves the distended feeling, shortens labor, makes recovery rapid and certain without any dangerous after-effects.

Mother's Friend is good for only one purpose, viz.: to relieve motherhood of danger and pain.
